

Classroom Agreement and Learning Commitment Activity

COMM354: Relationships and Reconciliation in Business and Beyond

Step 1: As a class, we will discuss the Medicine Wheel Approach to Indigenous Ways of Being, Knowing, Teaching and Learning.

Step 2: We will then explore (in four groups) the 4 aspects of the medicine wheel (emotional, mental, physical and spiritual). Each group will be assigned one aspect, and will then brainstorm on possible dedications or intentions for their assigned aspect, on an individual, community, and professional level. Each idea that the group comes up with will be written on a sticky-note on the Padlet. Each group will present back to the class as a whole for consideration and possible adoption for our classroom agreement.

Step 3: All of the thoughts, ideas and intentions will form our co-created Classroom Agreement and help guide how our classroom community looks and feels and how we will relate to one another throughout the term.